IRS PUBLIC RECORDS & VERIFICATION

PUBLIC DISCLOSURE GUIDE • OFFICIAL IRS VERIFICATION LINK

1. IRS PUBLIC RECORDS

The IRS Tax Exempt Organization Search (TEOS) provides public access to certain exempt-organization data, including Form 990-series returns, Form 990-N notices, Pub. 78 data, automatic revocation information, and determination letters for eligible organizations.

Publicly available IRS records should be linked to the official IRS website rather than copied into a website database unless the organization has a specific reason to host a copy.

2. FORM 990-N / E-POSTCARD

Form 990-N is an annual electronic notice available to many small tax-exempt organizations whose gross receipts normally are $50,000 or less. The IRS states that it is an annual filing requirement for eligible organizations.

If you upload the organization's e-Postcard to this website, use the exact filed version and confirm that it is the correct tax year and legal entity before publication.

3. PUBLIC DISCLOSURE & PRIVACY

Certain exemption applications and annual returns are subject to public inspection. The IRS also provides public access through its search systems.

Public disclosure does not mean every internal record should be published. Do not post private donor information, beneficiary case records, bank credentials, personal identification documents, trustee declarations, signatures, or confidential incident materials merely because they exist in the corporate file.

4. OFFICIAL VERIFICATION

Website visitors should be directed to the IRS Tax Exempt Organization Search for the organization's current public record. The IRS cautions that search data are produced from computer records and have limitations, so the organization should identify the exact legal name used in the IRS record.

5. PUBLIC LIBRARY STATUS

This package does not invent or recreate an IRS filing that was not located in the uploaded materials. The website therefore uses an official IRS verification link until the organization's actual filed e-Postcard or determination letter is supplied for publication.
